Kerry is an Executive & Business Coach who supports lawyers to build brilliant businesses whilst enjoying the journey.

She provides a safe, confidential space where you can openly talk about your business challenges and explore your options. It's a place to step back, think things through, and get guidance to help you make decisions that move your business forward.

With 16 years of experience in senior roles at global companies and 10 years running her own business, Kerry understands the challenges you face. She combines her marketing and corporate experience with professional coaching skills to support and empower you as you grow your business.

Kerry holds accreditations as a Coach from the International Coaching Federation (ICF), The Institute of Leadership & Management (ILM), and ABNLP.

Testimonials

Kerry made me feel completely at ease, able to speak about my business needs, concerns and goals, all in a safe and confidential space. Her insight, expertise and ability to tease out the things that are important to me, have helped me to run and grow my business more efficiently and given me greater confidence to do so.

(Parminder, Pensions Partner)

Kerry is brilliant and has been a great support! We structure sessions every two weeks where we explore how to approach specific clients to more generic marketing or business issues. Kerry is very good at asking the right questions to focus the mind and helping her clients build the right mindset to ensure success

(Adam, General Litigation Partner)

Kerry is an incredible coach – she resonates so well, is sympathetic, empathetic and incredibly professional. I left every coaching session feeling hugely motivated and up-lifted!"
